3.
A: I don't really have a lot going on this weekend. I was so busy last weekend that I didn't want to make any big plans for this weekend. I'm excited about being home by myself and relaxing all weekend.

4.
A: My friends and I are taking a road trip to Los Angeles this weekend. We're planning on leaving on Friday after class. We'll get to LA at around 7:00 in the evening—just in time for dinner. B: We could go to a movie. We could go see the new action movie.
A: You saw that movie last weekend, didn’t you?
B: Yeah, but I’d like to see it again. But you don’t like action movies, do you?
A: Not really.
B: We could go see that new comedy at Star Cinema!

Unit 3: Successful Businesses

Listening 1
1. A: What’s the new Indian restaurant on Sixth Street like?
B: Well, everyone said it was very good, but I wasn’t too satisfied when I went there the other night.
A: Why not?

A: Oh! That’s terrible service.

2. A: I’m going to get the textbook for our biology class at the campus bookstore. Do you want to come?
B: No, I don’t think so.
A: Why not? Don’t you think it’s convenient having a bookstore right on campus?

A: Oh. I didn’t know that.

3. A: Do you belong to a health club?
B: Not right now. I used to go to the Metropolitan Health Club on Third Street. I thought it was great because it was so cheap, but then I stopped going.
A: Really? I heard it was pretty popular.

4. A: That was the problem. It was too popular. It was always full of people. Sometimes I had to wait a long time to use the machines.

5. A: So how was the hotel in Honolulu?
B: It was pretty good. The staff was really nice—very friendly and helpful. There was one problem with it, though.

6. A: Do you want to try Italian food tonight?
B: Sure. Where would you like to go?
A: How about Little Roma—you know, that Italian restaurant across from the movie theater? I heard the prices are cheap.

A: Oh, I didn’t know that. Let’s try another place.

7. A: I heard there’s a sale at Brenda’s Boutique. Do you want to check it out? They have some really good clothes.

2. I’m glad I decided to study there. My Spanish is much better now. It’s pretty expensive, but the facilities are very good. They have a great computer lab, and there’s free WiFi all over campus. It’s much better than the school I was going to last year.

3. I’ve been going there for over a year. I just love the way they make my hair look. The stylists are really good at their work. The atmosphere makes you feel at home, too, with coffee and snacks, plus really good music. Sure, it’s expensive, but I only go there every two months or so.

4. It’s a great place to stay. The atmosphere is so glamorous and exciting. There are bright lights at the front door, and people always arrive in really expensive cars. The rooms are really beautiful, too. Of course, it’s not the cheapest hotel in Miami, but it’s definitely the best.
Pronunciation

B: I'd like to, but the salespeople there are not very professional.
A: I know what you mean. They're not very friendly, either.
B: Yeah, and some of the clothes are nice, but some of them are really bad quality.
A: That's true. I bought a sweater there last winter, and it fell apart after I wore it twice.
B: Also, it takes hours to pay for things. The lines are always really long.
A: Then again, I did get my favorite jeans there!

Unit 4: Apologies and Excuses

Listening 1

1. A: Oh, I'm so sorry. I didn't mean to hit you.

2. A: So, what did you do this weekend, Carrie?
B: Well, I went out to dinner at Sabrina's with my family on Saturday night.
A: Wow, Sabrina's! It's such a nice restaurant. What was the occasion?

A: Oh, no! Did I forget again this year? I feel terrible. It won't happen again.
B: That's all right. I always forget people's birthdays.

3. A: Hi, Gina. I don't want to bother you. I just came by to see if you're finished with that CD I loaned you.
B: Oh, sure. Come on in, and I'll get it... Let's see, I had it in my book bag... Uh-oh.

Listening 2

1. A: Hi, Linda. I'm so sorry I'm late.
B: You're really late. You were supposed to be here over an hour ago. What happened?
A: There was heavy traffic on the freeway, and I couldn't call because my cell phone died.
B: That's weird. There isn't usually any traffic at this time of day.
A: I know, but there was a really bad accident on the freeway about ten miles north of here. Traffic was completely stopped for over an hour.
B: Hmm... That's very unusual.

2. A: Hi, Mike.
B: Hi, Kyle. What's wrong?
A: I have to apologize. I wasn't able to finish my half of our class project last night.
B: But it's due today.
A: I know. I feel terrible about it.
B: What happened?
A: My roommate burned her hand while she was cooking last night, and I had to take her to the emergency room. We were there all night.

3. A: No wonder you look so tired. Is she okay?
B: Her hand is burned pretty badly, but she'll be all right.
A: Hey, Ken. Why didn't you come to Alex's party last night? We were all expecting to see you there.
B: Oh, I'm sorry about that. I got lost trying to find Alex's house.
B: Well, I wrote the directions down wrong.

A: That's strange. You always carry your cell phone with you.

Listening 3

1. A: Tell me all about how it went!
B: I wish I could, but I missed it. I got really sick on Friday night. I thought I had the flu, but it turned out to be food poisoning. I was sick all day Saturday, so I couldn't go to the wedding. I thought my cousin would be mad, but she just felt bad that I was sick all day.

2. A: Hi, it's Paul. I missed class yesterday. Can you tell me what the homework was?
B: Oh, sorry. I wasn't there yesterday, either. I was on my way to catch the bus when I fell and broke my ankle. One of my neighbors who was on his way to work drove me to the hospital. I'll call Katie and ask her about the homework, and then I'll call you back.

3. A: How did your sister do yesterday?
B: Well, her team won, but I didn't get to see it! I had just gotten to the soccer field when my boss called. One of my coworkers called in sick with the flu, so he asked me to come in and work.
4. A: Well, how did it go on Monday?
   B: You're not going to believe this, but I missed it! I left really early so I wouldn't be late, but I wrote the address down wrong, and I couldn't find the office. I was so nervous about the interview that I forgot my phone, too, so I couldn't call them and ask for directions. I was so mad at myself. I really wanted that job!

5. A: So how was it?
   B: I don't know because I missed it! I was so disappointed, and so was my niece. I had flowers and a card to give her, and I really wanted to be there for her special day. But I ran out of gas on my way to the school. Can you believe that? I made it to her graduation party later that evening, but I really wanted to make it to the ceremony.

6. A: So was it fun?
   B: Well, I think the people who went had fun, but I had to study for my history test. My friend Kelly went, and she said it was a great party. I hope Sarah has another one for her birthday next year.

B: I'm fine. It was just a check-up. Did you get the movie tickets for tonight?
A: No, I didn't. I'm sorry. I couldn't get online at home.

1. Now that John has that new job, you wouldn't recognize him. I guess you have to be more conservative when you have a job like that. He works really long hours now and wears a suit and tie. And when he comes home from work, he never wants to go out. All he does is sit in his chair and watch TV. He looks totally exhausted. That's not how he was in college. Back then he used to go around in old T-shirts and jeans. And he had that crazy green hair!

I don't think she ever exercised or played any sports. Well, she looks really different now. She's lost a lot of weight. In fact, she looks terrific. She told me that she decided to get in better shape after she got married last year. Now she goes to the gym three times a week.

3. Have you had a chance to talk to Maria lately? She's gotten so depressed—you know, sad and worried all the time. It's a real change. She used to be so enthusiastic and happy in high school. She was a cheerleader, and she was always laughing and making jokes. Now she just sits in coffee shops all by herself and just looks really sad. You can tell that something is really bothering her. It must be because she and her boyfriend recently broke up.

4. Do you remember what Ted Rodgers used to look like? He used to be so athletic, with really big muscles. He went to the gym all the time and was always careful about what he ate and drank. Well, you wouldn't believe how much he's changed. I'm sure he weighs over 200 pounds now. It doesn't look like he does any exercise at all, and he eats just about anything. Listening 2

1. Could you please tell me which platform the train to Toronto leaves from? And is it on the right or the left?
2. Would you please help me get my bags down so I can get off the plane? They're too high for me to reach.
3. Excuse me, sir. Do you know where the Transamerica Airlines counter is? Is it past the Northern Airlines counter?
4. Molly, we're about to land, so you need to fasten your seatbelt now. Do you need me to help you?
5. Let's find window seats so we can see things as they go by. I don't like having to look around other people.
6. But I have to be in Toronto tonight! Isn't there another flight I could take? I really have to get there tonight!

4. Let’s go to Tokyo.
5. It’s hard to drive ten hours.

Dictation
A: Welcome back! Tell me about your trip!
B: Oh, it was so much fun! First, we went to New York.
A: Did you go to the Museum of Modern Art?
B: Yes, we loved it. I had always wanted to see that museum. We also went to Central Park, of course, and lots of other sites.
A: Where did you go after that?
B: After New York, we went to Philadelphia for three days. And then we went to Boston for two days. It was a great vacation!

Unit 7: Housing
page 26, CD 1–32
1. Well, I’m single and I spend a lot of time traveling, so I’m not home very much. So there’s really no point in my spending money on a large place with lots of rooms.
2. We’ve got three small children, and they like to play outside, so I don’t think it makes sense for us to live in a high-rise building.
3. I work right in the city and I don’t have a car. I’d like a place close to my work so that I don’t have to spend a lot of time commuting.
4. I run my own business and I work out of my home. I’m lucky because I don’t have to go into town very often, so I’d like a place that’s quiet and away from the city.
5. I need a new place. I need a good-sized apartment because I have two teenage sons, and they each need to have their own bedroom. We want to live downtown, too.
6. Both my wife and I work for an airline and we’d like something fairly close to work. We don’t mind if it’s small, because there’s only the two of us. We don’t even mind the noise of the planes. In fact, we kind of like it.

1. My neighbors are fantastic. They’re really friendly, and some of them have a great party, too. I’d like more space, though. There’s hardly enough space for all my stuff. I guess I should throw some of it out, but I just can’t.
2. The apartment I rent is okay. It’s near a lot of stores, so it’s convenient for shopping. The problem, though, is that the owner hasn’t spent any money on the place in years. The furniture is falling apart, and the carpet in the living room is stained in places.
3. There are advantages and disadvantages to living out here in the suburbs. It’s not really the most convenient place to live. It takes forever to get into town, especially during rush hour. And there aren’t any good stores out here. On the other hand, it’s nice and quiet on the weekends.
4. I love my apartment. I wish I could afford to stay here. The location is perfect. It has huge windows with a beautiful view, and I love being able to step outside and walk to cafés and shops. The only problem is the rent. It’s just too high now, so I can’t stay.
5. My place is huge. It has room for all my stuff, and there’s a big kitchen, too. Of course, it’s really old, so it needs a coat of paint and some new appliances. The refrigerator and dishwasher are really ancient. And I think the stove is about a hundred years old!
6. I recently moved into an apartment building for the first time. I’ve always lived in houses. It takes a while to get used to having neighbors right next door. I feel like they’re always listening to me, like they want to know everything I do. It’s annoying. But the rent is much cheaper than my old place, and I like that.

1. We used to have a nice apartment downtown. It had great views of the city! But then these new people moved in upstairs. They played loud music all the time, and the sound came straight through the ceiling and into our apartment. It was terrible, so we moved. Now we’re living in a nice small house in the suburbs. And our neighbors are very quiet.

page 29, CD 1–35
Pronunciation
1. My apartment building is five stories high.
2. My son is in college.
3. The yard is pretty big.
4. Our neighbors are very quiet.
5. My house is too small for my family.
6. The bathrooms are small.

Dictation
A: How’s it going? Do you like your new apartment?
B: Oh, I love it. My neighbors are really friendly, and the landlord is nice.
A: That’s great! What’s the building like?
B: The building is ten stories high, and there are ten apartments on each floor. So, I guess there are 100 apartments.
A: Wow, it sounds huge. Have you seen some of the other apartments?
B: Yeah, my next-door neighbor invited me over for coffee the other day. She and her husband are doctors. They’ve been in the building for five years.

Unit 8: Can You Believe It?

1.
A: Did you hear about that woman in Florida?
B: No, what happened?
A: She pulled out the power cable to her office building so she could be sent home early with pay.
B: No way!
A: Yeah, and she had done the same thing to the telephone lines in the past in order to get out of work.
B: That’s awful! What finally happened to her?
A: She lost her job and was arrested for damaging property.

A: Did you hear about the woman who has to spend a month in jail because her pet is too overweight?
B: What? No!
A: Yeah, her pot-bellied pig weighs 200 pounds. Most weigh between 65 and 100 pounds. It’s unhealthy for the poor animal to be that big, and it has trouble walking.
B: So what happened?
A: Well, the police charged her with animal neglect. She also has to pay a $500 fine.

3.
A: What are you laughing about?
B: This story I’m reading. You know how call-forwarding works, right?
A: Yeah, you can have calls to one phone number forwarded to another number.
B: Right. Well, this plumber in Pennsylvania had the calls to five other plumbers forwarded to his own business.
A: So he stole the other plumbers’ customers?
B: Yeah, but just the customers with big expensive jobs. He’s in jail now, and lost his plumber’s license.

A: I just read something amazing in the news.
B: What was it?
A: These two robbers robbed a convenience store.
B: What happened next?

5.
A: Did you read this story about the man in Sweden?
B: No, what happened?
A: It says, “Customs officials in Sweden had an unusual experience today. As a man was going through the customs checkpoint, officers noticed that his shirt was moving.”
B: That’s weird.
A: Yeah, I know. Listen. “When they searched him, they found 65 baby snakes and six lizards inside his shirt. The man said he wanted to open a reptile farm. They arrested him for smuggling.”

6.
A: Did you hear about that guy who tried to rob a pharmacy in Canada?
B: No, what happened?
A: He was in the drugstore, and he told the employees there that he was going to come back in half an hour and rob them.
B: So what did they do?
A: They called the police, of course. So when the guy came back 30 minutes later with his friend, the police were waiting for them.
B: Oh, that’s hilarious!

A young man in Illinois was having trouble paying his college tuition, so he came up with quite a creative solution. He wrote to a newspaper columnist and asked him to print a request in his column. He wanted the columnist to ask readers to send in one penny to help him pay for his college education. Readers of the newspaper thought it was a funny idea, so they sent in their pennies, and in the end, the young man collected $258,000.

2.
An American football team wants to hire 250 students to help them get their new football arena ready for visitors. The job? Flushing toilets. Apparently, when a new stadium or arena is built, you have to make sure all the plumbing is working properly before you can open for business. And the only way to do that is to flush all the toilets at the same time.

3.
We all know that Egyptians mummified their pharaohs when they died in order to preserve their bodies for eternity. The Egyptians had an elaborate process for mummification involving various chemicals and techniques. But they may have been better off just going to Columbia, South America. It’s been discovered that the soil in the town of San Bernardo, Colombia contains ingredients that naturally mummify anyone buried there.

4.
What would you do if you were bored with your job because you didn’t have enough work to do? Would you quit? That’s not what a man working in a New Mexico government office did. Instead, he decided to sue his employer for “wrongful injury.” He argues that he left a higher-paying business job to take the government job and ended up with nothing to do.

A: Hey, listen to this. “In Florida today, a man was found drifting about a mile offshore. He was on a swimming pool float sound asleep.” Can you believe that?
B: No way! What was he doing out there?
A: Let’s see… It says, “Apparently, the man had fallen asleep and wasn’t aware that he was drifting out to sea. After rescued him, the Coast Guard said that he was very lucky that they found him.”

2.
A: Wow, did you hear about the twin sisters that were separated at birth?
B: No, what happened?
A: They were adopted by different families when they were babies and grew up in different cities.
B: Yeah?
A: But after high school, they both attended the same college!
B: Wow! And they met there?
A: Yes! They figured out they were twins. They were even in the same class!

3.
A: Hey, has an airline ever lost your luggage?
B: Yeah, once.
A: Well, this British guy claimed that different airlines lost his luggage dozens of times. And since the airlines pay you when they lose your luggage, he’s gotten about $135,000 in lost luggage claims.
B: Wow, that’s amazing.
A: It sounds amazing, but it isn’t really. The guy had an illegal scam going. He would check two or three bags. Then when he reached his destination, he would put one bag inside another one and claim that it was lost!
Unit 9: Friendship

1. I really like Allison. She's such fun to be with. She always makes me laugh. Did she tell you the story about her first day of school? I don’t think I’ve laughed so hard in my whole life!

2. I went out with this guy a couple of times, Ted Roberts. Maybe you know him. He's okay, I guess, but the guy's got no future. I think he just wants to spend the rest of his life surfing at the beach.

3. Tony Lee asked me out the other night, and I said no. You know, he is really embarrassing to be with. Last time I went out to a party with him, he nearly got into a fight with someone. He would never leave the party, even after everyone else left.

4. I've been out with Sandra Bronstein twice. She's really an interesting person. I didn't realize her father is a pretty well-known artist and her mother is a successful stockbroker. I really like to meet her parents sometime.

5. Do you know Rod, the guy in our Spanish class? Anyway, he's invited me out on a date. You know the guy I mean—he's kind of thin, very tall, with long curly hair. And he's got those dark brown eyes. Just my type!

6. I was stuck sitting next to Martha at a dinner party the other evening. No matter what I said or did, I couldn't get her to laugh. I wonder why she's so terribly serious.

Listening 2

1. A: Hello.
   B: Hey, Paula. It's Tina. I'm calling about next week. I wondered if you had anything planned for Wednesday.
   A: No, not really. Why?
   B: Well, there's going to be a talk at the bookstore, by that guy whose book we read in class last semester. Remember?
   A: Oh, yeah. Sure. That sounds kind of interesting, and I don’t really have plans.
   B: Great! I'll meet you at the bookstore Wednesday at 7.

2. A: Hi, Rose. How are you?
   B: Not bad. And you?
   A: Okay. Listen, are you interested in going to an art show on Sunday?
   A: A friend of mine is having an exhibition of her paintings. It's the opening night—free drinks and food.
   B: Well, actually, I don't have anything planned. It sounds kind of fun. Why not?
   A: Well then, why don't I pick you up at 6:30?
   B: Okay. I'll be ready and waiting.

3. A: Hi, Melissa.
   B: Oh, hello, Suzie.
   A: Do you have any plans for tonight?
   B: A few friends and I were thinking of going out for a pizza.
   A: Gee, I'd really love to. But I have to work late.
   B: Ah, that's too bad.
   A: Yeah, I really wish I could go.

4. A: Doing anything after class?
   B: Nothing much.
   A: Why don't we go downtown and take a look at the new shoe store?
   B: Great idea. I need some new gym shoes.
   A: I don’t really need new shoes. I just love shoe shopping!
   B: See you after class then.

Listening 3

5. A: Hey, George, are you interested in going to the car show? It's going on at the exhibition center.
   B: Yeah, I like those kinds of shows. When is it?
   A: It opens on Saturday morning.
   B: How about we go in the afternoon? I want to sleep late.
   A: That's fine with me.
Difficult. There’s one kid who’s been playing the violin since he was two years old!
A: When is it?
B: Let’s see... It’s a Saturday afternoon.
A: I’d really like to see it, but I was planning to watch soccer on TV that day.

2.
A: Hey, this sounds interesting. You get to see how all sorts of unusual foods are prepared, and you get to try different dishes, too. They have chefs from Japan and India, from China, from Mexico, and from Italy, too. What do you think?
B: Well, it does sound interesting, but I can’t. I’ve just started a new diet, so I can’t eat too much.

A: Let’s go and see this. I love these kinds of events. A lot of famous people are going to be there. All of the actors who are in it are coming to see it, and the director and producer are going to be there, too.
B: Really?
A: Yeah. We’d need to get to the theater early, though, to get a good view.
Thousands of people always show up for these premiers.
B: Actually, I’d rather not go. I don’t like big crowds.

4.
A: This event down at the bookstore could be interesting. It’ll be a chance to get a famous person’s autograph.
B: Oh, yeah? Are you into autographs?
A: Sure. It’s fun to meet famous people.
B: Yeah, but she’s not really one of my favorite writers. In fact, I think her books are kind of boring.

5.
A: Let’s go and watch this tomorrow afternoon. It should be a good game. The home team just got two new really good players.
B: But haven’t they lost a lot of games recently?
A: Well, yeah. But they’re playing better now.
B: Thanks for asking me, but I think I’ll stay home. I heard it’s going to be pretty cold tomorrow.

6.
A: Let’s check out this exhibition at the gallery downtown. The artists seem pretty talented.
B: Hmm. What artists? Any big names?
A: No, not really. They’re all local artists.
B: Well, thanks anyway, but I’m only interested in seeing works by famous artists.

B: Yeah, I do. Why do you ask?
A: She’s in my history class. I really like her. She’s so funny.
B: I know. She makes me laugh all the time.
A: She seems very intelligent, too.
B: She really is smart. She gets As in all her classes. Have you met her brother and sister?
A: No, what are they like? Are they like Sandra?
B: Her brother’s completely different. He’s intelligent, but he’s not friendly at all.

Unit 10: Television
Listening 1
1. A: Did you watch it today? I missed it.
B: It was great. One of the best episodes ever! Ted married Isabella, and Isabella’s daughter is upset. So now Ted’s worried, and Isabella’s miserable. I can’t wait to see what happens tomorrow.

2. A: Did you watch the show last night?
B: I started to, but I had to go out. Did you see it?
A: Yeah.
B: Who won the grand prize?
A: A 20-year-old university student. She won a new car.

3. A: How was that show you watched the other night?
B: It was crazy! All the people on the show were constantly arguing and saying mean things about each other. I don’t know why anyone would want to be on a show like that.
A: I know, me neither. Are you going to watch it again?
B: Definitely. I want to see if Erica and Lisa get in another fight!

4. A: Did you hear about what happened in Florida?
B: No, what happened?

A: Well, there was a huge hurricane there yesterday.
B: Really. That’s terrible!
A: I know! And there were some major floods. Lots of people have had to move out of their homes.

5. A: Did you watch the game?
B: Yeah, it was pretty exciting. Too bad our team lost, though.
A: Yeah, I thought they were going to win this time.
B: I know. But they really need to work on their defense.

6. A: Did you like that show you were watching when I called last night?
B: Yeah, I thought it was pretty interesting. I always wonder how they can take video of birds flying like that. You get the impression you’re up there flying with them.

1. A: Oh, that cooking show I like is on tonight. I love the chef on that program.
B: Yeah. She's that British chef, right? I really like her, too. I've tried some of her recipes. They were really good, and none of them were that difficult to make.

2. A: Hey, Liz, do you watch that reality show, Who Wants to Marry Me? The finale is on tonight!
B: Well, honestly, I think those shows are really frustrating to watch. The people on those shows fight all the time.
A: Oh, I love watching them argue with each other! But I guess you don't want to watch it with me.
B: No. Sorry.

3. A: Are you going to watch the tennis match on Saturday afternoon? It looks like it's going to be a good one.
B: I know, but I don't really enjoy watching tennis on TV. I'd rather play tennis than watch it.

4. A: Hey, there's an interesting documentary about space travel on TV tomorrow. Let's watch it.
B: Okay. I love science documentaries. You learn so much more from them than you ever learn in school.

5. A: Hey, that travel show is on tonight. You know the one—they follow this guy on his vacation, and he always tries to find the cheapest places to stay. Sometimes the places are dirty and full of bugs. It's fun to watch.
B: Actually, that doesn't sound very interesting to me. I'd rather watch a show about staying at expensive hotels!

6. A: Oh, that antiques show is on tonight.
B: I love that show. People bring their antique furniture and stuff. Sometimes their old junk turns out to be worth thousands of dollars. It's really amazing.
A: I think it's kind of boring. I'd rather watch something exciting, like an action movie—or sports.

B: Oh, I thought it was really exciting. I can't wait to find out why those people are on the island. What did you think?
A: I didn't think it was interesting at all. I was bored.
B: Really? You thought it was boring? But there was so much drama and excitement!
A: I think shows like that are frustrating to watch. You never know what's going on.
B: Oh, that's exactly why I think they're so fun to watch. I can't wait for next week's show!

Unit 11: Cities

1. When I went to Hawaii, I spent the first few days in Honolulu. Everything was really expensive there, especially in the restaurants. Four dollars for a soda! But the beaches were wonderful. The sand was so soft and the water was so clean.

2. Sydney is one of my favorite cities in Australia. There are some great buildings there, like the famous opera house. The only problem is the weather. Spring and fall are okay, but the summer is too hot for me.

3. Vancouver is a nice city to visit, but don't go in the winter. It's much too cold! The rest of the year is great, though. And there are plenty of clubs, restaurants, and other places to go at night.

4. One of my favorite cities is New York. There's so much culture there. I spent two weeks there last summer, and every day I went to a different museum, play, musical performance, or poetry reading. The only thing I don't like about New York is the traffic noise. You can hear cars driving and honking all night long.

5. I think Rio de Janeiro is one of the most interesting cities in South America. The nightlife is great. They have great musicians, so there's always good music in the cafes. Crime is a problem, though, so you have to be careful.

6. In Los Angeles, you have to drive everywhere, and sometimes the traffic is terrible. But that's the only bad part. There are a lot of fun things to see, like Hollywood, Disneyland, museums, and movie studios.

1. A: Hey, Paul, guess what? I'm going to visit Quebec next summer. I have to go to a friend's wedding, but I also plan to stay a while and do some sightseeing.
B: That's great, Dave. You're going to love it. But do you mean the province of Quebec or Quebec City?
A: I guess I mean the province. The wedding is in Montreal, so I'm going there first. I'll be there for about four days. Montreal is the capital of the province, right?
B: People often think it is because it's the biggest city in the province, but it's not actually the capital. Quebec City is the capital. But Montreal is great. The St. Lawrence River runs right through the middle of the city. It's beautiful in the winter.
A: Wow. And how about the language? My French is okay, but not great. I know most people there speak French, but can I get by with English?
B: Well, people speak both French and English there, but you'll hear French most of the time, and all of the street signs are in French. In fact, Montreal's the third largest French-speaking city in the world. So you'd better practice your French before you go.
A: Okay, I'll do that. Now, what about Quebec City? I'm going to visit a friend from college who lives there now.
B: What's it like?
A: It's a beautiful city. Very old. A lot of the buildings have been nicely restored. Some of them were built in the 17th and 18th centuries. You'll love it there.
A: Great! I can't wait to go!

Listening 3

1. My trip to Cancun this summer was great. The thing I liked most was going snorkeling at the beach. The water was crystal clear and full of the most beautiful tropical fish I’ve ever seen. I’ll never forget it. Unfortunately, though, I spent too much time in the sun and I got the worst sunburn of my life. I had to go to the doctor to get a cream for it. Next time I go, I’ll use sunscreen every day.

2. You wouldn’t believe what happened on my vacation to Bangkok. I lost my wallet in the taxi! I thought I would never see it again. But that evening, the taxi driver came to my hotel and gave me my wallet back to me. I was so relieved! The last day I was there, though, I got food poisoning from some fish I had at a restaurant near my hotel. Next time, I’ll eat at a different seafood restaurant.

3. While I was in Athens last summer, I met a really nice Greek family on the boat to the island of Corfu. They invited me to spend a few days with them at their beach house there. What a great house! Anyway, I also went down to Crete. I arrived without a hotel reservation and every place I tried was full, so I had to sleep at the bus station for the first two nights. It was awful. Next time, I’ll make reservations before I go.

4. I went to Mexico City for the first time last summer, and I managed to use my Spanish every day. I mean, I still had to look up words a lot, but I was really proud of myself. The only bad experience I had there was when someone stole my purse while I was having lunch in a restaurant. Next time, I’ll watch my purse more carefully.

5. I really enjoyed my visit to London. I wish I could have stayed there for a month instead of just for a week. The thing I really enjoyed most was the British theater. I went almost every night and saw some really famous actors. Unfortunately, I didn’t realize how expensive London can be. I spent twice as much money as I had planned to.

6. I just came back from a vacation in Tokyo. I did just about everything a person could do there—I even went to Tokyo Disneyland. In fact, I had such a good time there that I went back again the next day. One thing I didn’t realize, however, was how cold Tokyo can be in the winter. I didn’t take enough warm clothing with me, so I had to buy a coat, a hat, and gloves so I wouldn’t freeze.

Dictation

A: How was your trip to Paris?
B: It was so much fun! But the airline lost my luggage on the way there.
A: Oh no! Did you have to buy new clothes?
B: I had to buy a toothbrush for that night, but they found my suitcase the next day. And they delivered it to my hotel so I didn’t have to go pick it up.
A: That’s great! Did you rent a car?
B: No, you really don’t have to drive there. You can take the Metro everywhere. That’s what the subway is called in Paris.

Unit 12: Urban Life

Listening 1

1. It used to take me about an hour to get to the airport, but now it takes me more than two hours. There’s so much traffic here these days.

2. There used to be some really good stores on King Street, but most of them moved to the new mall downtown. Now King Street looks pretty deserted.

3. The city council has done a great job of providing places for kids to go in their free time. The community center has some great after-school programs now, and there’s a new skate park on Market Street.

4. There isn’t much use to be a lot of jobs for young people in the city, but there are a lot now. You see lots of companies advertising to train young, inexperienced workers.

5. I used to eat out a lot, but I don’t eat out much anymore. All the good inexpensive places near my apartment have moved or gone out of business. Now there are only really expensive restaurants in my neighborhood. It’s really too bad.

6. They built the new highway over there a couple of years ago. We used to hear the cars and trucks all day and night. But then they planted trees along the side of the road to form a sound barrier. Now it’s nice and quiet. And pretty, too.

Listening 2

1. There are hardly any trees downtown now. They cut down a lot of trees when they built the new stores. It’s not as green anymore.

2. My school still looks the same as ever. It hasn’t changed at all, except now there’s no fence around it. I think it looks nicer without it.

3. Remember that building with all the windows on King Street? They tore it down and they’re going to redevelop the site. It’s probably for the best since the building had been empty for so long.

4. We do all our shopping at the new outdoor farmer’s market near our house. There used to be a supermarket there, but it wasn’t very good, so some local farmers got together and started the farmer’s market. Everyone loves it. In fact, it’s very crowded there on the weekends.

5. There didn’t use to be any industry in my hometown. People used to come here to enjoy the beautiful scenery. Now no one comes here because of all the factories and traffic.

6. The young people in town used to go to a club downtown next to all the office buildings. Now they go to the new skate park. It’s better because they’re outside, they get some exercise, and have fun!

Listening 3

1. A: I love living here. The best thing is the choice of stores. There are some great bookstores around here, and I love just browsing for an hour or so to see what’s on sale.
B: Yeah. That’s nice.
A: We do need some better restaurants, though. There are too many fast food places. They should open a place that serves really good salads. I’d love that.
B: So would I.

2. A: The only thing I don’t like about my city is the mall. Everything is too expensive there. They should have a few cheap stores, too.
B: What about downtown? Is there anything to do there?
A: Oh, sure. There are at least a dozen great places to eat downtown. There's Chinese food, sushi, Mexican food, and even a Greek place.
B: Oh, I love Greek food. Let's go there sometime.

3.
A: I think the city council does a great job of keeping the streets clean. There isn't a lot of trash all over the place.
B: That is nice.
A: But we could use more green space. They should build a few more parks downtown with lots of trees.
B: That's a good idea.

A: This city is so boring at night. Nothing ever happens. I wish we had some fun clubs to go to.
B: Yeah, me too.
A: On the other hand, I love that there's almost no crime. You can walk anywhere, even at night, and feel completely safe.
B: You're right about that.

A: The traffic in this city is pretty bad. During rush hour, it can take an hour to drive twenty miles. We need bigger highways.
B: What about the public transportation?
A: It's great, actually. The subway trains are clean and fast, and they run all the time. I just wish I lived near a station!

A: You know what I love about this town? It's such a healthy place to live. There are so many trees, and the air quality is so good. I guess that's because there's not a lot of industry around here.
B: Yeah. You're probably right.
A: But, of course, no industry means no jobs. It can be very difficult to find work around here. The city should try to bring more businesses here.
B: I agree.

3. The kids used to skateboard in the street.
4. I used to eat out a lot.

6. There didn't use to be any industry here.

Dictation
A: This city has changed so much in the past five years.
B: What do you mean?

A: Well, there didn't use to be anything for kids to do after school, but now there's a great after-school program at the community center.
B: That's true. There are a lot of fun things for kids to do now.
A: Also, there used to be a lot of crime downtown, and there didn't use to be a lot of good restaurants there.
B: Yeah. It's safe downtown now, and there are lots of great places to eat.

Unit 13: Special Days

Listening 1

1. This special day is always on the third Sunday in June. Families celebrate their dads with gifts like neckties, cologne, or a nice homemade meal.

2. This special day is usually celebrated on October 5 worldwide. It's to honor and thank teachers for all their hard work, dedication, and contributions to their students and schools.

3. It's on the second Sunday in May. Most children give their mom flowers or a gift to thank her for all she's done for them. In some families, children bring their mothers breakfast in bed or take her out to dinner.

4. It's on the evening of December 31st. Lots of people have parties that start late and go on until long after midnight.

5. This is a day in the spring when adults celebrate kids and spend the day with them. Sometimes the children get special gifts. In some countries kids are given free admission to museums and amusement parks.

6. This special day is on April 22nd. It celebrates the Earth's natural environment. People get together to plant trees, clean up parks, or create community gardens.

1. My best friend usually takes me out to dinner. We've been doing this since we were in high school, and it's lots of fun. She pays for the meal, but I don't let her buy me a present. Instead, I buy myself a present! That way I always get something I really want.

2. I usually invite my classmates to go out and party with me. About 10 of us get together.

We start out at a restaurant, and then we go downtown. Last year we went to six different clubs in one night. It was wild! It's the one time a year when my parents don't care if I stay out late.

3. My two children always take me out to a restaurant for dinner. I'm glad they do that instead of spending a lot of money on presents. They're still in school, so they can't afford to buy expensive gifts.

4. I always celebrated my birthday when I was younger. I'd have a big party and invite everyone I knew. Sometimes I'd have more than 50 people at my place. Those were the days! I don't do anything like that anymore. Since I turned 35, I'd rather not remind myself that I'm a year older. Now I just have a nice dinner at home with my family.

5. My parents let me invite all my friends over to my house for a party. Usually I have about 25 people over. We always have a lot of fun opening presents, watching videos, and singing along to the radio—stuff like that. My parents are great. They stay upstairs, and they don't bother us.

6. Well, I always have a quiet birthday at home with my husband, George. He takes over the kitchen for the day and bakes a nice cake for me. I prefer that to going out to a restaurant.

1. I'm a big fan of Valentine's Day. It's one of my favorite days of the year. I love opening and reading those cards and trying to guess who they're from. And last year I got a real valentine, too—you know, from someone who really liked me. That was so romantic.

2. I don't know why people still play tricks on April Fool's Day. Last year on April first, one of my co-workers played a really horrible trick on our office. He moved all the stuff on everyone's desks around, so no one could find what they were looking for. It was a total waste of time.

3. Earth Day is really amazing. People spend their time helping each other and nature. Last year, my book club planted flowers around the kids' playground in the park. Then we had a picnic with lots of fresh fruits and vegetables. I hope we do something just as special this year!
4. When I was a kid, we used to surprise my mom every Mother's Day with breakfast in bed. We got up early and made a mess in the kitchen, but she always enjoyed it. At least I think she did! It was a great tradition and we had fun cleaning up the kitchen together.

5. Father's Day is a special time for me. It's great because I get to spend the whole day with my family. Last year, our whole family got together for a big dinner. They made my favorite meal, spaghetti and meatballs, and we had ice cream for dessert. We're all big talkers, so everyone had funny stories to tell.

6. I don't look forward to New Year's Eve. Those parties are the worst. There's way too much food, and you end up eating too much and staying up too late, and you feel terrible the next day. The noise! Last year, the people next door had a huge, noisy party that went on till five in the morning!

Pronunciation

1. Mark is turning twenty-one in September.
2. This will be their fiftieth wedding anniversary!
3. Her birthday is on the thirty-first.

Dictation

A: Hey, Alex. What's up?
B: Oh, nothing. I'm just planning for my dad's sixtieth birthday.
A: Wow! Your dad's sixty already? He looks so young. I would have thought he was fifty years old.
B: Ha! He'd love to hear that. Anyway, it's a special occasion, so I want to plan a surprise party for him.
A: That's nice. I'm sure he'll appreciate that. So when's the big day?
B: On the thirtieth.
A: That's only two weeks away! You'd better start planning!

Unit 14: Fashion

1. Oh, this is typical early 60s. That's when guys started to wear their hair a little longer. And girls wore skirts or dresses. I love the wide belts and the boots that girls used to wear.

2. This must be the 1920s. I love the dresses women wore then—very straight and they came down to just above the knee. And they wore their hair short sometimes with a little wave. Men looked handsome, too, with those wide trousers. They hung out in jazz clubs all the time. What a wild time that was! No wonder they called it the “Roaring Twenties.”

3. This is the late 60s—early 70s, of course. Look at this woman's long tie-dyed skirt. It's so colorful. The guys wore jeans and T-shirts with peace signs on them! And all the young people had long hair back then.

4. This must be the 1950s, when boys had their hair slicked back and wore high school letterman jackets and tight jeans. I wonder how they ever got into them—or out of them for that matter. The girls wore sweaters, neck scarves, and wide skirts.

5. Oh, this is the late 70s or early 80s, I think. Both the guy and the girl have punk hairstyles and they're wearing lots of black leather. But it's hard to tell when this is exactly because some people still look this way!

6. This has to be around 1910. People dressed very formally back then. Men had suits with long jackets and they usually wore black hats. The women wore long dresses and capes. They looked very elegant.

1. A: I just ran into Mary. Wow! She's really changed!
B: Really?
A: Oh, yeah. She used to look really wild. Remember, with all that big hair and makeup? And that leather jacket?
B: Sure. I remember.
A: Well, that's all gone. Now she wears plain, conservative blouses, and her hair is much neater.
B: Weird. Do you know why she changed?
A: Yeah. She just finished college and is looking for a job, so wanted a different look.

2. A: Beth's dressing differently these days.
B: Oh, really?
A: Yeah. I think it's a change for the better. She used to wear unfattering suits all the time. They were always too big for her.
B: Yeah, I thought the same thing. Now she's wearing fantastic fitted suits in bright colors. My favorite is her red suit.
B: So, why the change?
A: She was on one of those makeover reality shows! They gave her advice on how to dress, and gave her $10,000 to buy new clothes!

page 56, CD 2–30

Listening 3

1. I just bought these. Do you like them?
B: No, why?
A: Well, he's really changed his look. He used to have that preppy look—you know, the khaki pants and shirts with collars. And short hair.
B: And now?
A: Now he's got long hair, and wears it in a ponytail. And he always wears dark clothes.
B: Interesting. What made him change?
A: He got a new job at an Internet company, and the atmosphere there is really casual. Apparently, everyone wears jeans to work every day.

B: David's really changed the way he looks.
A: What?
B: He used to wear suits and ties all the time, but not anymore.
A: What happened?
B: He broke up with his girlfriend.

page 56, CD 2–30

Listening 3

1. Have you seen Jake lately?
B: No. Why?
A: Well, he's really changed his look. He used to have that preppy look—you know, the khaki pants and shirts with collars. And short hair.
B: And now?
A: Now he's got long hair, and wears it in a ponytail. And he always wears dark clothes.
B: Interesting. What made him change?

know they won’t hurt my feet. They were a pretty good bargain, too—only $12.50.

2. What do you think of this? Are the arms long enough? I really need it for work. These days we have to dress up at the office, so I can’t just wear a shirt and tie. It’s made of wool, so it’ll be nice and warm in the winter. It was on sale for $75.

3. This is made of silk, and it was made in China. It’s very light, and I love the way it feels. I have to go to a wedding in San Diego this summer. It can get really hot there, so I wanted something sleeveless. I thought it was a bargain at $200.

4. These will be great for work. They’re made of extra-thick denim, and the quality seems good. That’s really important to me. I tore a hole in my last pair the first time I wore them. Working in construction is hard on my clothes. I can’t believe these were only $29.95!

5. Does this look okay on me? It’s not too tight, is it? It’s imported from France and really well-made. I thought the colors were great, and I have a couple of blouses that will go perfectly with it. It’s made of wool, too, so it will be very warm. It wasn’t cheap—$95—but I know I’ll wear it all the time.

6. These will be great for running. They were pretty expensive—$115. They’re imported from Korea and look very well-made. They’re really comfortable. And I like these little stripes down the side. I’m going to want to run every day now just so I can wear them!

page 56, CD 2-33

Listening 1

1. A: Do you travel a lot?
   B: Yeah, I do.
   A: Which do you prefer—traveling by train or by plane?
   B: Well, the thing I like about a train is it’s so comfortable. You can get up and walk around. A plane is faster, but you have to stay seated in those uncomfortable seats.

2. A: Do you prefer living in a house or an apartment?
   B: Well, I used to live in a house. I had a nice yard and we had lots of space. But it was too much work, taking care of the yard and all that. An apartment is so much more convenient.

3. A: Would you rather study American English or British English?
   B: Well, they’re very similar, but overall I think American English is more useful for me because I watch a lot of American movies and television shows. British English does sound very nice, though.

4. A: Would you rather work in an office or a department store?
   B: Well, I think working in a store would be more interesting. You would get to talk to more people. I think office work would get really boring after a while. I don’t like to sit at a desk all day.

5. A: Which would you rather learn—German or Spanish?
   B: Well, German is an interesting language and it’s useful in Germany and a few other countries in Europe. But Spanish is used in Spain, Central America, South America, and a lot of places in the U.S. So studying Spanish makes a lot more sense for me!

6. A: What kinds of music do you like?
   B: Well, I like all kinds of music, but I don’t care for rock-n-roll very much. It’s a little too loud for me. I guess jazz music is my favorite. I really like the piano and strong melodies.

B: Yeah, it’s great. Is it made of wool?
A: No, I think it’s made of cotton.
B: Don’t you already have a couple of black sweaters?
A: Yeah, I do, but I really like this one.
B: You wear a lot of black. Why don’t you try on one of these blue sweaters?
A: Yeah, that’s a nice color. I’ll try it on.

Listening 2

1. A: I love Mexican food. I like it hot and spicy.

page 60, CD 2-35

Listening 3

1. I really don’t like those group tours. You know, the guide picks you up at the hotel every day, and you have to go and see all the sights. I prefer traveling by myself. That way, I can relax. Relaxation is very important to me. I have a very stressful job, so every year I like to spend my two-week vacation lying on the beach and doing nothing.

2. When I go out to eat, I like to have a nice conversation, and I don’t want to be disturbed. That’s why I prefer quiet places. I don’t like those loud, trendy places. They play loud music in the background, and they’re full of such loud people. You have to shout so you can hear each other. It’s really annoying!

3. I prefer staying at one of those small places because I think the service is better. The people at the front desk remember your name, and the housekeeping people are nice, too. It’s like staying in someone’s home. I don’t like those big tourist places. They might have more facilities, like a gym or a swimming pool. But what I care about most is service.

4. I don’t know how people can stand living downtown. It’s too noisy, you can never find parking, and it’s dangerous, too. No, I prefer living in the suburbs, for a lot of reasons. For one thing, I like to have a lot of space. That’s important to me. I love having a big backyard and a garage for my car. And I also like to have friendly neighbors around me.

5. Having one is great, especially if you live in a small apartment like I do. That’s what I prefer—one just to keep me company. Two would be too hard to take care of. And feeding them would be expensive, too. They could keep each other company while I’m at work, though. But imagine all that cat hair!

6. I’d prefer a position where I can help people. I know that many people are mainly interested in making a lot of money, but making a lot of money just isn’t that important to me. I’d rather do something that is good for everyone and not just myself, even if it doesn’t pay very well.

Unit 16: Phone Messages

It looks like you’re going to have to get a new hard drive or a new computer. Let me know when you want to come in to pick up your laptop, and I can help you decide what to do next.

3. Paul, this is Anne. It’s 8 p.m., and I’m still tied up at the office, so I don’t think I’ll be able to join you for dinner tonight. I feel really bad about it, but we’ll definitely have dinner tomorrow night. Promise! Bye.

4. This is Brandon King, from apartment 1201, calling for Kelly. I’m afraid I had a slight accident in the parking lot and did some damage to your car. 6. Hello, I’m calling for the Burtons. This is Mrs. Parker, from across the street. Your daughter got into my yard today and picked half my flowers. I’d say it’s going to cost about $250 to replace them. Not to mention my time and effort. Call me as soon as you get this message. The number is 916-5741.

A: Hold on. Is that spelled L-E-E?
B: Actually, it’s L-E-I-G-H.
A: Ah, okay.
B: And my number is 627-6082.
A: Is that 627-6082?
B: That’s right. Anyway, I can’t come to Spanish class tonight because I have to work later. Can you tell Mr. Garcia that, please?
A: Sure.
B: Thanks.

4.
B: Hi. Is Benny there?
A: No, he just stepped out to the bank.

A: 867-5309.

A: Okay. Come on Saturday morning, 11 a.m., shampoo and haircut. That’s for Benny’s cat and not for Benny, right?
B: Correct.
A: I’ll tell him as soon as he gets back from the bank.
B: Thanks a lot.

4. Then I went in and saw all my friends from work there.
5. I heard my boss’s voice behind me. As he came out of the kitchen.
6. I turned around to say hello, and guess what? He was wearing exactly the same tie as the one I had bought him!

1. Some friends and I were in the elevator going up to my apartment when suddenly the elevator stopped between floors and wouldn’t move. We were able to open the doors a little, but we were still stuck!
2. I went to the airport to pick up my boss. I was so nervous that I wasn’t paying attention to what I was doing. After I met him at the arrival terminal, I realized I couldn’t remember where I had parked my car. I couldn’t believe it! With my boss there and all… I felt so stupid.
3. When I left for work on Monday morning, I realized I had to walk because I didn’t have a dollar bill for the bus. My boss gets angry if I’m late, so I really had to hurry. I was afraid of being fired.

4. We were staying in this hotel in Thailand when there was a fire. I was so scared when I heard the fire alarm go off! We got out of the hotel as quickly as we could. The hotel was badly damaged, and some people lost their clothes and money. Fortunately, we were lucky. No guests or staff members were injured.

5. I was out shopping with a friend when I saw some kids selling raffle tickets to raise money for a charity. It was fun and helped good cause, so I bought a ticket. I didn’t think much more about it. But in the end, I won first prize! It was a good prize, too—a weekend trip for two to New York City!

6. I was at a restaurant with my wife when this famous movie star sat down at the table next to us. I couldn’t believe it! I wanted to ask him for his autograph, but my wife said I should let the man have his dinner in peace. Later, when my wife was in the next room, I asked the waitress if she would ask the movie star to sign my menu. And believe it or not, he did!

1. We went to the beach on Friday, and just as we arrived, it started to rain.
2. I was walking to work when all of a sudden, I heard someone call my name.
3. I was having a great time, and before I knew it, it was midnight.
4. We waited and waited, and finally, the tow truck arrived.

Dictation

A: Did I tell you about what happened to me last Saturday morning?
B: No. What happened?
A: I was walking down the street to get some coffee when suddenly I heard someone call my name. I looked around, but I didn’t see anyone I knew.
B: Then what did you do?
A: Well, I thought maybe I imagined it, so I kept walking, and just as I was about to go into the cafe, I heard it again. It was my best friend from elementary school.

Unit 18: Vacations

Listening 1

1. A: What do you think I should do for vacation this summer?
   B: Well, you like the beach, and you love hanging out in the sun. Why don’t you go to the Caribbean? Or how about the Philippines? Some friends of mine stayed at a beach resort there last summer.

   A: Well, I’ve been to the Caribbean a couple of times, and I always enjoy it. But I’ve never been to the Philippines. I think that would be fun.

   B: I’m not sure where to go for vacation this year.

   A: Why don’t you go skiing? I had a great time at a ski resort in the mountains last winter. Or how about a jungle trip to the Malaysian National Forest? I did that a couple of years ago, and it was amazing.

   B: Well, I just bought some new ski equipment and I’m dying to try it. I have to say that I’m not too excited about the idea of a jungle trip. I don’t like bugs, and I bet there would be a lot of them.

   A: I’d like to do something really different for my vacation this year.

   B: How about a trip down the Nile River? You’ve never been to Egypt, right? Or maybe you could spend a week in the Australian outback.

   A: Hmm. They both sound interesting, but I guess I’d prefer the Australian trip. The Nile River might be just a little too exciting for me.

   B: I’d like to do something exciting this vacation. I don’t want to just lie around on a beach.

   A: How about white-water rafting down the Colorado River? It takes you right through the Grand Canyon. That’s really exciting. Or you could go on a 10-day African safari. I’ve heard that’s a great trip.

   B: The safari trip would be fun sometime, but I only have one week. I think I’ll do the Grand Canyon trip. Thanks for the tip!

   A: Any ideas about where we should go for vacation?

   B: I’m thinking about a couple of trips. We could go to Southeast Asia. We’d go to Thailand, Singapore, and Indonesia. The other place I was thinking about going to is China.

   A: China! I’ve never been there. I hear it’s fascinating. I’ve already been to Thailand and Indonesia, so let’s go to China.

   B: I need help figuring out what to do for my vacation.

   A: Well, last year, my friends and I went on a two-week bus tour of Europe. We traveled in nice, comfortable motor coaches and stopped in different cities. We stayed in each city for a day or two, and all of our hotel reservations were taken care of.

   B: Hmm, that could be fun, but sometimes I get sick when I ride in cars and buses.

   A: You could take a train trip across Russia. My sister did that a couple of years ago.

   B: Oh, I love trains. And I’ve never been to Russia.

1. I’m so excited about my trip to Asia. I’ve never been there before. First, I’m flying to Taipei from the US. I’ll be spending three days there, because I hear that there’s a lot to see and do. I’ll also be spending three days in Seoul. I hear the nightlife is great. Then we go from there to Hong Kong. I’m planning to do lots of shopping there, so I hope two days is enough time to buy everything I need. I would really love to go to Beijing for a few days. But, unfortunately, this tour doesn’t go there. After Hong Kong, we’ll end up in Thailand for five days. So I guess I won’t be able to get to Tokyo or Malaysia on this trip. Oh well. I have to save a few places to visit on my next vacation.

2. Well, our trip starts off in London. We’ve got a week there. Then we’ll take the bus up to Oxford for two days to see friends. We also wanted to see Cambridge—I hear it’s beautiful—but we won’t have time for this trip. Anyway, then we head to France. We have five days in Paris, which will give us time to see all of those museums. I wish we were going to spend a few days in Germany, too, but this trip doesn’t include it. But we do go to Switzerland for three days. I’m really looking forward to that. Then we end up in Italy for the last five days of the tour.

3. We start off in Los Angeles. We’re going to stay there for three days because we want to hit the beach and see the sights. We’re not going to go to San Francisco this time, because we’ve been there before. Then we’re off to Denver to visit my sister. We’re going to stay there for a week. I hope that’s enough time, because I haven’t seen her since last Christmas, and we have so much to talk about. We were thinking of going to Chicago after that, but we just don’t have time, so it’s straight on to Washington, D.C., and New York. We’ve got two days in Washington and three in New York. We’d really love to get up to Boston for a couple of days, but it probably won’t happen. Maybe next time.

page 72, CD 3–9

1. After graduation, I’m going to fly to Europe and spend a couple of weeks traveling on my own. I’ll be in Germany and France, mostly. There are so many things I want to see and do.... to see and do: museums, restaurants, clubs, cafes, that stuff. I know my parents worry about me traveling alone, but I just prefer it that way. I guess it's because I want to be free. On those group tours, everything is planned for you.

2. I'm taking a trip to New Zealand. I hear it's really quiet down there, and the people are really friendly. I want to go to small towns that don't get a lot of tourists. Then I can just check into a cheap hotel and do my own thing. I'm really looking forward to this trip. I guess it's because I need to go somewhere quiet. The city where I live is so noisy, and the people are rude.

3. When I'm in London, I want to see as many plays and concerts as I can. I also want to go to all the big museums and art galleries there. I'm going to go dancing as often as I can, too. Basically, I want to see and do everything! I really want to make the most of the week. I'll be there. I guess it's because I need some excitement. My life has been so boring this year.

4. I'm going to go to Thailand this winter. I don't want to spend any time in Bangkok because I've been there before. This time, I just want to relax on a nice, quiet beach. I can swim and snorkel every day if I want to, but I don't have to do anything. I just want to relax. I guess it's because I've been so busy at work recently.

5. I'm spending a month in Mexico. It's going to be great. I don't want to spend any time in Mexico City, though. There are too many tourists there. Instead, I want to go to one of those small, old colonial towns. I guess it's because I want to practice my Spanish. I studied the language for three years in college, and I think I'll get to use it a lot more in a small town.

6. My friend and I are going to Australia. It's perfect for us because Australia has a lot of cheap hotels for backpackers. They're great places to meet other young people and travelers from all over the world. I'm really excited about this trip. I guess it's because the beaches are great there. I heard the east coast of Australia has some of the best surfing in the world.

B: Yeah, I did. Joe and I went to a great beach resort in the Caribbean.
A: Wow! Did you do a lot of sightseeing?
B: No, we mostly just relaxed on the beach.
A: That sounds like fun. Did you do anything else?
B: Not really, but we did go out to dinner every night.
A: Were the restaurants good?
B: They were great! And we went to a different one each night.

A: a fire destroyed the famous Presidential Hotel last night. Firefighters helped all the hotel guests escape safely from the building, although some people lost their clothes and other belongings. Firefighters say the fire probably started in a guest room, possibly because a guest fell asleep while smoking.

1. A protest by over 5,000 nurses caused major traffic jams downtown yesterday morning. The nurses protested in front of County General Hospital to demand higher pay and an increase in staffing. They say that major budget cuts have resulted in unfair salaries. And because 20% of nursing staff was laid off last month, remaining nurses have to work longer hours and take care of more patients. Later in the day, hospital management promised to consider their demands.

2. Over 20,000 people so far have visited the national museum to see the collection of works by the popular Colombian artist, Botero. That is the largest number of visitors the gallery has had for several years. This is the first time that Botero's work has been shown in this area, and the collection includes some of his best-known paintings and sculptures.

3. Several hundred people are fleeing their homes in Los Angeles, California, because of a forest fire burning out of control in the nearby hills. The fire began five days ago. Hot weather, wind, and a very dry summer are helping the fire spread very quickly. Firefighters have come from as far away as Alaska to help put out the flames.

4. A customs official at Kennedy Airport was very surprised yesterday when he checked the baggage of a passenger and found over 50 live snakes, some of them very poisonous. The government believes that the passenger was planning to sell the snakes illegally in the U.S. They would have been worth up to $1,000 each. A few snakes escaped from the suitcases, but airport officials say that all of them were caught within an hour.

5. As a result of the heavy rain over the weekend, city officials fear there may be a flood. Many people living near the river have had to leave their homes. Over 30 families are now homeless. Most of them are staying with friends and relatives. Volunteers worked throughout the weekend to place sandbags along the river.

6. A spokesperson for two of the country's largest airlines—Northern Airlines and Air International—has announced that the two airlines are discussing a possible merger for next year. If the merger goes ahead and the two companies combine, it could be bad news for travelers. Many business experts think that the new company would certainly raise ticket prices.

1. A: Well, space exploration is pretty expensive, but I think it's worth it.
   B: Why is that?
   A: Well, that's how we learn more about the universe we live in. That's pretty important, isn't it?

2. A: I can't stand commercials on TV these days. They really annoy me.
   B: Oh yeah? Why's that?

A: Did you watch the news last night and see the story about the bank robbery?
B: No, I didn't. What happened?

1. A: Three men robbed the bank on Fifth Street. They got away with $850,000.

   A: Not yet. There's a $15,000 reward for anyone who helps the police capture them!

2. A: I think the Olympic Games are great. I can't wait for the next ones.
   B: Really? Why?
   A: Well, they encourage an interest in sports and help bring about better international understanding. We need more of that.

3. A: Every city needs tourism, I think.
   B: Why do you think that?
   A: Well, because tourism can bring jobs and money to the city. It's a much better way of raising money than taxes.

4. A: Well, action movies might be fun, but I don't think they are really good for young people.
   B: Really? Why do you say that?
   A: Because they are too violent. I never let my kids watch them.

Listening 3

1. A: I think more attention should be given to studying foreign languages at school. Don't you think so?
   B: Sure. Absolutely. I think students should be required to learn a second language. It'll help them get better jobs. I studied Spanish in school, and my Spanish language skills helped me get a great job.

2. A: I think lawyers have the best jobs in the world. What do you think?
   B: I'm not sure I agree. It's true that lawyers make a lot of money, but they also have to work really hard.

3. A: The shows on TV these days are the worst. Even with 100 channels to choose from, there's nothing to watch.
   B: I think it's because most TV shows are written for teenagers. There's nothing for people older than 19 to enjoy.

4. A: Have you taken the bus lately? It's awful!
   B: I know. The last time I took the bus, I had to wait for an hour for it to come. And it was so packed that I couldn't get a seat.
5. A: Where did you get that skirt? It’s so cute.
B: Thanks! I bought it online.
A: Really? I buy books and music online, but I’ve never bought clothes online. I like to try things on before I buy them.

A: What do you think about the new mall?
B: I don’t know. I haven’t shopped there yet. Have you?
A: Yeah, I have. I went last weekend. I liked it a lot. It has a ton of stores, lots of great restaurants, and a big movie theater.
B: Oh, I’ll have to check it out soon. It sounds so much better than the old mall.
A: It is. The old mall is boring, dirty, and too small.
B: I agree.

1. A: Hey, Lisa, are you free Thursday night? Some friends and I are going to see the new Halle Berry movie. Would you like to come along?
B: Oh, I’d love to go! She’s so beautiful. Didn’t she win a bunch of beauty pageants when she was younger?
A: Yeah, she did. And she’s so talented, too. She’s the first African American woman to win the Academy Award for Best Actress.
B: Yeah! That was really exciting.

2. A: Would you hand me that book on the table?
B: Sure. Here you go. What’s it about?
A: It’s about Gandhi.
B: Oh, yeah! He helped India become independent, right?
A: Right. It’s interesting stuff. He inspired so many people. But did you know he started out as a lawyer?
B: No, I had no idea. So when did he become such an important leader in India?
A: Not until he was in his 40s.

B: Thanks. Could you pass me the cream? I was up all night reading the new Stephen King novel.
A: He’s the one who writes those horror stories, right?
B: That’s right.
A: And haven’t they made a lot of his books into movies?
B: Yeah, like Carrie and The Shining. They’re really good, and the books are even better. And really scary, too. This new book is giving me nightmares.

4. A: How’s it going, Amy?
B: Oh, all right. I’m writing a research paper on Leonardo da Vinci, so I’ve been spending a lot of time in the library.
A: Isn’t he the one who painted the Mona Lisa?
B: Yeah. He also did a lot of other great paintings. And he was a scientist and an inventor, too!

5. A: Hey, Josh! Is that a Bob Marley poster?
B: Yeah. Do you like his music?
A: I sure do. He made reggae music famous all over the world. I love that song of his called “No Woman No Cry.” Have you heard that one?
B: Yeah. I downloaded a great version of it just last week. Do you want to hear it?

6. A: Hey, Jen, do you know where Albert Einstein was from? I need it for this crossword puzzle I’m doing.
B: Well, he’s from Germany, originally. That’s where he discovered the Theory of Relativity. It completely changed the study of physics.
A: Yeah, I know. I somehow thought he was American.
B: No, but he lived in the United States for a long time. He taught science at Princeton University.

Listening 2

A: Good evening and welcome to tonight’s edition of Legendary Lives. Our subject this evening is James Dean, actor and hero to the young people of his time.

Edward Murray is the author of a new biography of Dean. Good evening, Edward.

B: Hello, Tina.
A: Edward, could you please tell us what you know about Dean’s early life?

B: He was born in Indiana in 1931, but his parents moved to California when he was five. He wasn’t there long, though, because when his mother passed away just four years later, Jimmy’s father sent him back to Indiana to live with his aunt and uncle. While growing up there, he played baseball and basketball, rode horses, and played ice hockey. He used to ride his motorcycle all over the farmers’ fields, speeding and chasing cows.

A: So, how did he get into acting?
B: Well, first, he acted in school plays at his high school, where he won a drama award. He also won arts and sports awards in high school, and a speech contest, too. He went to college in California, and that’s where he seriously started to get into acting. He did modeling for advertisements and appeared in some TV shows. In 1951, he moved to New York to do more stage acting. In fact, he won an award as “Most Promising Newcomer” for 1954.

A: Well, when did his movie career really start?
B: 1955. His first starring role was in East of Eden. He was fabulous! James Dean became a huge success. But the movie that really made him famous was his second one, Rebel Without a Cause. That was about teenagers who felt like they didn’t fit into society.

A: So, how many more movies did he make?
B: Just one more. Then he died in a car crash in California, in 1955. He loved driving fast. In fact, he was driving his Porsche on his way to take part in a race when he died.

A: What a tragedy: He only made three movies, so what made him the legend he still is today?
B: Well, I guess his looks, his acting ability, his short life, and maybe the type of character he played in his movies. Many young people saw him as a symbol of American youth.

Nelson Mandela, the first African president of South Africa, was born in 1918. His father was an assistant to an important African chief, and as a young boy, Nelson often helped his father. While he listened to people telling the chief about their problems, Mandela decided he wanted to become a lawyer so that he could help his people with their struggle for freedom.
After high school, Mandela studied for a bachelor of law degree. In 1942, he started his political life by joining an organization called the ANC. "ANC" stands for African National Congress. The ANC fought against the laws of the South African government, because these laws made life difficult for black people. Even though most of the country's population was black, the people who ran the government and had all of the power were white. Over the next few years, he and other members of the organization worked hard, and the ANC became a powerful national movement. The group encouraged people to resist the government in a peaceful and non-violent way.

Mandela became deputy president of the ANC in 1952. He was now an important leader of black South Africans. As a lawyer, he helped poor people stay on the land where they lived, instead of being forced to move to areas where the government wanted them to live. He also fought against laws that said that black and white people could not live in the same areas or go to the same schools.

During the early 1960s, the government began watching Mandela carefully, and he was soon arrested. He was sentenced to life in prison in 1962. He was not released from prison until 1990. Even while he was in prison, he inspired people in his own country and others all over the world.

After he was released, Mandela continued to try to achieve the goals he had set almost forty years earlier. In 1994, he became the first democratically elected State President of South Africa. He remained president until he retired in 1999. Today, the world remembers him as South Africa's best known and best loved hero.

A: Oh, really? Did you see anyone famous?
B: Yeah! We saw Leonardo DiCaprio in a cafe and Jackie Chan walking down the street!
A: No way! Did you get their autographs?
B: No. We were too shy to ask. What would you do if you saw someone famous? Would you ask for an autograph?
A: Maybe. I was at a restaurant once, and I took a picture of a big celebrity!

Unit 22: Food and Nutrition

Listening 1

1. I never pay attention to my diet. I eat whatever I want. There's nothing I like more than a big juicy steak for dinner and chocolate cake and ice cream for dessert. Yum!
2. I'm trying to cut down on cholesterol, so I've stopped eating eggs, cheese, and red meat. I'm eating a lot more fish and chicken.
3. I'm trying to put on weight. Everyone tells me I'm too thin, so I've started eating a lot more meat and dairy products. It's great. Now I can go out as often as I want for hamburgers and fries.
4. I've got a real sweet tooth. I love chocolate, candy, and things like that. But I know it isn't healthy, so I've given all that up. Now the only sweets I have are fruit.

Listening 2

1. Well, from what you've been telling me, Mr. Grant, it sounds like you're already eating more vegetables. That's good. But you should definitely eat less cheese. It has a lot of sodium and fat in it. That explains why your cholesterol level is so high.
2. I'm glad to hear that you've been eating fish more often, Linda. It's much better for you than meat because it has a lot less fat in it. It will probably help your high blood pressure, too. Now, you should also try to eat more fresh fruit, too, especially berries, like strawberries and blueberries—they're full of antioxidants.
3. Well, Chris, I think it's great that you've been eating a lot of vegetables. I see you've been having fruit for dessert instead of ice cream, too. That's excellent. But you say you've been feeling tired and weak lately, so you should eat more meat.

4. Ms. Barton, I'm wondering about all the bread you've been eating. I know you need to lose weight, and sometimes eating a lot of bread makes that very difficult. So, I'd like you to eat less bread for a few weeks. Otherwise, your diet seems pretty well-balanced. You're eating meat, but not too much meat, as well as a lot of fruit and vegetables.

5. You're right, Mr. O'Brien. You're definitely losing too much weight. It's probably because you haven't been eating meat. Now, even if you don't eat meat, you still need protein. Why don't you try eating more eggs, beans, and cheese? They've got a lot of protein. I'm sure that will help.

6. Well, Mrs. Johnson, I see here that you've been having stomachaches in the mornings lately. And you say you have cereal with milk for breakfast every day. I think the problem is that the milk is difficult for you to digest. That means you shouldn't eat dairy products, like milk and cheese. I suggest you stop drinking milk for a few months. Try having eggs for breakfast instead of cereal.

Listening 3

Cheese is one of the world's oldest foods. It was made by the ancient Egyptians over 3,000 years ago. It is a valuable food, since it contains vitamins and protein. It is used both as a food itself and in many different types of cooking.

There are hundreds of different types of cheese around the world, but they are almost always made from the same thing: milk. Cheese is made from several different kinds of milk, including cow's, sheep's, and goat's milk. Most cheese in the United States is made from cow's milk. Cheese also contains water. A soft cheese, like Brie, contains more water than a hard cheese, like Parmesan.

Cheese is produced through a process called "fermentation." The process of making cheese was probably discovered by chance. Ancient people used to make bags using the skin from an animal's stomach. When they used these skin bags to carry milk, bacteria from the animal's skin reacted with the milk to begin the fermentation. The result was cheese.

Today, cheese making is a very scientific process. First, the milk that will be used is pasteurized, which means that it is heated to remove all bacteria. Then, specially cultivated bacteria, called "cultures," are added to the milk. The milk is kept fairly warm during this period to help the cultures grow. As they grow, the bacteria cultures grown. sometimes release bubbles of carbon dioxide. These bubbles help make the holes in Swiss cheese.

Next, as the milk ripens, it forms a solid substance. This substance is called "curd." The curd is removed, and the water is drained from it. The curd forms the basis of the cheese and may be treated in different ways.

Finally, once it is matured and dried, the cheese is ready to eat.

A: Hi, I'm Jane, and I'll be your server this evening. What would you like to drink?
B: I'll just have some water, thanks.
A: Okay. And what would you like to eat?
B: Could you tell me what types of vegetables come with the roast chicken?
A: Sure. It comes with peas and carrots.
B: Okay. Then I'd like the roast chicken and vegetables, please. And I'd like a piece of apple pie as dessert.
A: Okay, that's roast chicken and vegetables, and a piece of apple pie.

1. A: You know, I'm in an embarrassing situation. I've got a house guest staying with me. He's been here a while and I don't know when he's going to leave. Do you think I should ask him?
B: Yes, I would if I were you.

2. A: One of my best friends borrowed $5.00 from me and seems to have forgotten about it. I'm too embarrassed to remind her. I don't think it's worth mentioning, do you?
B: No, it's only a small amount. But next time, make sure you don't lend her any money!

3. A: This guy at work is always asking me out, and I really don't want to go out with him. Do you think I should tell him I don't like him?

1. I was looking at some dishes in a department store yesterday when I dropped and broke one. I thought for sure they'd ask me to pay for it, but the salesclerk was nice and said I didn't have to.

2. I went out for dinner with my girlfriend last night at this Italian restaurant. When I checked the bill, they had charged us for things we hadn't even ordered. I talked to the waiter about it. He apologized and said I didn't have to pay for the things we didn't order. In fact, we got the whole meal for free!

3. I had a date with my girlfriend last night, but on the way there I got stuck in a traffic jam. I got to the movie theater nearly half an hour late. When I finally arrived, my girlfriend was very upset with me, and we both went home without seeing the movie.

4. A funny thing happened to me yesterday. This girl came up to me on the street and thought I was the actor Tom Cruise. She even asked me for my autograph. I wasn't really sure what to do! I didn't want to disappoint her, so I went ahead and signed Tom Cruise's name. I hope I did the right thing.

5. When I got home on Friday, all my friends were waiting inside my apartment. My brother let them in because they wanted to have a surprise party for me to celebrate my birthday. Unfortunately, my apartment was a mess. Can you imagine how I felt? My brother told me they had to spend a half an hour cleaning up when they got there.

6. There was this guy who sat behind me in class. I'm sure he cheated whenever we had a test. He was always looking over my shoulder. I didn't know what to do about it. Finally, I asked the teacher if I could sit in a different seat. I felt a lot better after that.

1. A: My brother-in-law is okay, but there's one thing he always does that I can't stand.
B: Oh, what's that?
A: Every time he comes to our house, he goes straight to the refrigerator and helps himself to something to eat. The other day he finished two sandwiches that my wife and I were planning to have for lunch.
B: No way!
A: Yeah. At first I didn't want to say anything, but now I've decided that I'm going to speak to my wife about it.

2. A: Do you know Charles, that guy in our computer class?
B: Sure, I know who you mean.
A: Have you noticed his breath? It can be pretty awful sometimes. I'm surprised someone hasn't spoken to him about it. But I guess it's an awkward thing to mention to someone.
B: Right. I know what you mean.
A: Hey! Maybe I should send him an anonymous note about it. That's a nice way of handling it, don't you think?
B: It sounds good to me.

3. A: My aunt is staying with us this week. My parents gave her the bedroom right next to mine, and she snores really loudly. It's impossible to sleep at night.
B: You mean it's that loud?
A: Oh, it's horrible! And when I told my parents about it, they didn't help me at all.
B: That sounds frustrating.
A: You bet it is. I guess I'll have to sleep in a different room while she's here.

1. Well, the government has done quite a bit to reduce water pollution. It's certainly better than it used to be. Now we have to do something about air pollution, which is still pretty bad.

2. Crime is a growing problem in the country right now. Sometimes it's because people are unemployed. I think what we really have to do is reduce unemployment. That should help the crime problem.

3. The subway and bus services have definitely got to improve. But the government should really focus on improving conditions for people in the cities. So many people need better places to live and the problem is getting worse.

4. One of the biggest issues we're facing right now is unemployment. If people can't work, they can't spend any money, and then the whole economy continues to suffer. The government really needs to help create more jobs.

5. Parking downtown is so expensive, and there's so much traffic on the streets in the morning with so many people trying to get to work. We need a new subway system to make it easier for people to get to work so we don't have to drive our cars all the time.

6. There has been an increase in life span throughout the world. People live longer now because of the availability of medicine and clean water. We need to make sure this continues.

1. I grew up around here, and the river has always been really polluted. Industries were dumping all sorts of chemicals and waste into the water, so the river really smelled bad. You wouldn't even think of swimming in it. Well, I decided to do something about it. My neighbors and I wrote a letter to the mayor asking him to force these industries to clean up the river. I really hope the government listens to us and takes action.

2. Over the last few years we've been having much hotter summers and warmer winters. When I was a kid here, we used to have a lot of fluffy, white snow in the winter. Now we don't get that. And there hasn't been much rain for a couple of years. I guess this is the effect of that global warming I keep hearing about in the news. That's why we've decided to move to Chicago. There's plenty of snow and rain up there!

3. When did the world get so crazy? That's what I'd like to know. For years, I thought everything was fine. Now all I read about in the newspaper is countries fighting each other, dropping bombs, and terrible things like that. You know what I did about it? I stopped reading the newspaper. Now, whenever I want to read something, I just pick up one of those sports magazines. No bad news in there!

4. It's almost impossible to get across the city in less than an hour and a half during rush hour. There are too many cars on the roads. There are only two freeways, and they just can't handle all the traffic. The only thing that moves quickly in this city is the subway. That's why I took an apartment right next to the subway station.

5. One of the biggest problems we face is garbage. Where can we put it all? In the past, everything used to get buried in giant landfills, but in many countries today, the landfills are full and there is no room to start new ones. That's why I decided to try to create less garbage. I buy fewer packaged foods now. For example, instead of buying frozen prepared dinners in plastic trays and cardboard boxes, I buy fresh meats and produce. I also take my own cup to the coffee shop so I don't have to use paper cups. Creating less garbage is really the only solution.

6. In the future, everyone will have to live in giant high-rise buildings if they want to live in cities. These new buildings might be a hundred stories tall, or more. If cities keep getting bigger, the only way they can expand is upward. I can't stand crowded cities myself. That's why I moved to a small town in the country.

In developing countries, more and more people are moving from the country to the cities in order to find work. This is because, in many countries, it is often no longer possible to make a living as a farmer. The result of this movement is the development of what are sometimes called "megacities." These are huge cities with populations of up to 15 million people.
People who move to megacities usually believe that cities have many benefits to offer. They believe that there are more jobs available, and that salaries are much higher than they are in the countryside. They think there will be a lot of new, affordable housing to choose from. And of course, these people are attracted to the exciting, glamorous image of the big city that they have seen on television and in movies. They even expect to live longer and healthier lives in cities, because the health care is better there.

But, in reality, life in these megacities is not always as good as people hope. Jobs are often difficult to find because many of the people who move to the cities have little education and few job skills. As a result, there is a huge supply of unskilled workers to choose from, so salaries are very low. Housing can also be a problem. Many people end up in huge, crowded slums on the outskirts of these cities. And their families may become sick, because even though the health care is better in the cities, it is also much more expensive.

The growing population of megacities causes many other problems for city governments. Air pollution increases, for example, as does crime. Getting rid of garbage is extremely difficult. There is not much space available for public parks and gardens. And as these cities continue to grow, these problems will become even more difficult.

Dictation

A: There are so many problems in the world today.
B: I know. There's water pollution, air pollution, global warming, unemployment.
A: Yeah, and there's the destruction of the rain forests, traffic problems, housing shortages. It can get depressing if you think about it too much.
B: No kidding. What do you think the biggest issues are?
A: I really think air pollution is the most important issue. If we don't reduce pollution and improve air quality, we'll all have health problems.
